MEMORANDUM

TO : General Donovan
FROM : William L. Langer
SUBJECT : Awards and Decorations for RAA Personnel

I have noticed from recent reports of the ETO and MEDTO that a substantial number of OSS personnel have been granted awards or decorations for meritorious service. It comes as a distinct shock to me to discover that not a single RAA man is included in any of these lists. I find it extremely hard to believe that the merits of RAA men are being given adequate consideration by the appropriate boards in the theaters because I am firmly convinced that RAA men in the field have done distinguished work and have made contributions to the war effort fully as important as some of the men who have been decorated. I am sure I need not remind you of the superb work done in London by men like Kindleberger, Rostow, Hitch, and others whom it would be easy to mention. The same would certainly hold true for MEDTO where men like Dorr, Coombs, Bowie, and Salant made an enviable reputation for themselves and for OSS.

I remember that when Dorr and Coombs returned from their Bucharest mission you expressed the opinion very definitely that these men should be decorated. I at once took such steps as were within my competence, and I have also made repeated efforts to secure some recognition for Peter Karlov. So far as I know, none of these efforts have borne any fruit, and I am afraid that the effect on the morale of deserving men is not a favorable one. I am submitting this memorandum to you because I am sure you would want to be personally informed of this situation.

Please inform appropriate officials that we deeply appreciate their expressed wish to award decorations to me and other members of OSS. Hope they will understand our feeling at present such action might cause misunderstanding which would injure our effectiveness and that we can best serve the best interests of the Allied cause and the true interests of the Italian people by maintaining an objective atmosphere in our current activities. This does not prevent the fullest expressions of our thanks for their courteous motives.

#19144. CORRECTED COPY. To 109 from Glavin (Rome #317). SECRET

A number of decorations are available from the Monarchy here. These include the highest award available which, it was suggested, would be awarded to you. Other awards were to be made to those who have worked and who are now continuing their work in Italy. We consider that those who remain on this work might be handicapped in the future if the awards were accepted at this time. We also consider that since present government of Italy remains undecided in respect to status of the Monarchy it is possible that the other awards, including yours, might give rise to the mistaken but perhaps embarrassing assumption that you and the organization were biased in favor of the Monarchy. Although these views are speculations at this time, it is a fact that the current government has not taken an oath of allegiance to the Crown. We are not committed to any acceptance at this time. All action has been postponed pending your arrival when we think a final decision should be reached. Our current recommendation is to postpone acceptance until such time when in each case the recipient has in fact completed his work here and is being transferred to another station or is leaving the organization.

We should answer this as follows
 #19144. To 109 from Olavin (Rome #317). Hold conversation of

A number of decorations are available from the Monarchy here. These include the highest award available which, it was suggested, would be awarded to you. Other awards were to be made to those who have worked and who are now continuing their work in Italy. We consider that those who remain on this work might be handicapped in the future if the awards were accepted at this time. We also consider that since present government of Italy remains undecided in respect to status of the Monarchy it is possible that the other awards, including yours, might give rise to the mistaken but perhaps embarrassing assumption that you and the organization were biased in favor of the Monarchy. Although these views are speculations at this time, it is a fact that the current government has not taken an oath of allegiance to the Crown."

1. On return of personnel from the field, they submit reports covering their complete activities. These reports are reviewed, personnel questioned, and reports are cross checked with all other available reports from others who have operated in same area. Before recommendations for decorations are prepared, other checks are made in the field in order that we may be able to substantiate to Theater Commander the data submitted. A considerable amount of time as well as a great amount of effort is involved. To date, following awards have been made to SO personnel: DEC to Floege, Bouchardon and Cyr. Navy Cross to Orin. Silver Stars to Soekice, Knerly and Friele. All papers have been completed and submitted by SO branch recommending following awards: DEC's to Busset, Bruggen, Brucker, Henquet, Kahoe, Laussacq, Martin, Summers, and Zielske. Silver Stars Anstett, Bonin, Guet, and Vatters. Bronze Star Medals: John Alsop, Bloch and Poitras. After submission by SO branch, these papers are reviewed by OSS Awards and Decorations Board here, if approved, they are sent to the Commanding Officer for signature and transmission to Theater Headquarters. At latter place, they are checked by Adjutant General's Office, then submitted to Awards and Decorations Board who make recommendations to G-1. Then and if finally approved by G-1, papers are then returned to Adjutant General for publication in General Orders. In the case of Cyr, about 5 weeks elapsed between action by ETO awards and Decorations Board and publication of orders. DSH cases are entirely different from usual combat decorations in that our men usually have nothing to support accomplishments other than their own stories while actions of personnel on duty with troops are usually witnessed by numerous fellow soldiers. Insofar as SO combat awards are concerned, we have an excellent procedure worked out and everything possible has been and is continuing to be done to get appropriate recognition for all deserving individuals.

I am surprised that no effort has been made to have Oblensky decorated for hazardous undertaking. As you know he parachuted into Sardinia at a time when the Germans were on the island and making an effort to evacuate from it to Corsica. The Italians on Sardinia were not known to be friendly and we had indications that they were working with the Germans.

Kindly make application to theater commander for decoration of Oblensky without delay. You should also file without delay recommendation for Colonel Eddy's appropriate decoration.

MEMORANDUM

TO: The Director

FROM: Colonel P. B. Nelson

SUBJECT: Award of Emblems to Civilian Employees, OSS, for Faithful, Meritorious, and Exceptional Services.

1. The question of awards to OSS civilian employees was referred to me for consideration with particular emphasis upon the application of War Department Civilian Personnel Regulations CPR 104 on the above subject. Copies attached.

2. Upon calling Mr. Kushnick, Director of Civilian Personnel and Training, and the Policy Group, Mrs. Swartz and Mr. Young, I was informed that the opinion of the civilian branch was that since OSS employees were paid from a separate emergency Congressional appropriation and not from the War Department appropriation such employees were not eligible for the War Department civilian emblem awards.

3. I was then referred to Col. Robert Moore of General Richard's War Department Budget staff for further information. Col. Richards confirmed the Civilian Personnel Chief's policy and added the information that since the War Department had denied the right of Panama Canal and of River and Harbor personnel to the award, even though their funds are an integrated part of War Department Budget, they could not extend the privilege to OSS civilian personnel.

4. Summarizing: Civilian employees of OSS are not entitled to the civilian emblems prescribed for War Department civilian personnel nor is there any prospect of such awards being made available.

I am returning herewith the memorandum from Captain Greenfield of the Communications Branch, concerning the problem of citations and awards for civilian OSS personnel at overseas stations. I discussed the matter with Col. Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and I feel it would be a commendable project. The only suggestion I have to the matter is referred to Mr. Nelson as to the method of effecting such a program.

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Major Campbell
FROM : Captain Greenfield
SUBJECT: Civilian Awards

DATE: 27 AUG 45

In connection with your special problem of citations and awards, I should like to draw your attention to the enclosed clipping from the Philadelphia Inquirer relative to service emblems and frontier ribbons for overseas civilian personnel.

Undoubtedly, awards of any kind for overseas men will have to originate in the theater. For our own Branch we have written the field and asked that this be done. For the theater ribbon, however, it would seem that action could be taken here to certify appropriate individuals.

We would appreciate your investigating this and letting us know what steps that can be taken.

NORMAN H. KENNEDY, CAPTAIN, Lieutenant Colonel, Air Corps, Headquarters
8th Air Force, Office of Strategic Services, for unacceptably low conduct in the performance of outstanding service in the Philippines. The award of operations from 20 December 1944 to 31 July 1945. Awarded to the Office of the Surgeon General, for the Office of Strategic Services, in the Headquarters Theater of Operations, Lieutenant Colonel Norman Kennedy was appointed Inspector General, from the beginning, Colonel Kennedy's duties included extensive supervision of the low flying, night bombing, search intelligence, special operations, communications, air force, and all branch procedures for the fourteenth Office of Strategic Services branches located throughout the Headquarters Theater, as well as responsibility for the entire branch of the command. In addition, he was charged with the duties of the Surgeon General, which included supervision of the Registry, and health and welfare matters. A large measure of the success achieved by intelligence and operations personnel in the field was the result of Colonel Kennedy's superlative handling of these duties, most of which had no precedent in established method of procedure. The effective co-ordination of Office of Strategic Services resources, with Allied Force Headquarters, with the work of Colonel Kennedy, produced results that brought the Office of Strategic Services communication from the Theater Command. Awarded service from New York, New York.

SUBJECT: Commendation of Lt. Colonel Charles W. Thayer, 0457759.

TO : Commanding Officer, Hq. 2877 Regiment (Provisional).

Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Thayer was assigned to temporary duty with the 18th Army Group from 3 June to 15 June 1948 on a special mission to Vienna. While on such mission he served as interpreter, political advisor and secretary to Brigadier General Lester D. Flory, who acted as head of the United States Element. Colonel Thayer, by reason of his long foreign service with the Department of State in Moscow and elsewhere, together with his fluent knowledge of the Russian, French and German languages, was especially qualified to serve on this mission. His unusual ability, tact and diplomacy coupled with his eagerness to work tirelessly at all hours, far beyond the line of duty, rendered him of great assistance to General Flory and contributed in no small measure to the success of the mission. General Flory refers to these services in terms of superlatives, and I wish personally to express my thanks for making Colonel Thayer's services available.

Dear Colonel,

The kind expressions you addressed to me in your letter are once more, the desired acknowledgement of my efforts for the liberation of my Country. For this acknowledgement, myself and my fellow officers are most grateful to you.

The sincere and valuable support given by yourself and your entire organization which in no time was missing nor lacking, was mainly responsible for the success of our efforts.

Particularly in these moments that I wish that the precious friendship and past collaboration should be maintained and even strengthened for the rehabilitation and the return to normality of my beloved Country.

Assuring you heartily and at all times my sincere and lasting friendship I beg you to accept, also from my fellow officers our best wishes.

2. Your work is full of setbacks and a great deal of frustration. Composed as you are, you are of carefully selected people, of the best characters from all over the world and members of our military, you are doing both the orthodox and the unorthodox, you are doing "the hard" and you have either killed or let it stand in the way of a great many and you have won more decorations for individual acts of heroism and gallantry, than most organizations many times your size. In accomplishing your mission you have set a standard for the unhesitant cooperation and team play, a willingness to accept the unknown, the do the unorthodox, to accept an, risk, take any chance, and above all, you have demonstrated time and again that you could be relied upon to come back with "mission completed", and not in excuse.

SUBJECT: Commendation

TO : All members, 100th Air Detachment, 1st, 100th, 11th

1. The first of the commendations is for the gallantry shown by the ex-terminator of the enemy in the field. This is a man who has shown that he knows his job, and he has done it well. He has been in the past and present of the enemy, and he has been successful in his mission. He has been successful in his mission, and he has been successful in his mission. He has been successful in his mission, and he has been successful in his mission.

2. You are a man who has established a reputation for gallantry. Composed as you are, one of the fully equipped and well-trained soldiers from a 100th Air Detachment, you are a man who has shown both the ardor and the intellect of our military. You are a man who have either killed or been instrumental in the killing of the enemy, and you have shown no reservations for individual acts of heroism. Gallantry, then, most organizations hang their hats on. In accomplishing your mission you have set a standard for all the other operations and to a play, a willingness to accept the unknown, the do the unorthodox, to accept any risk, take any chance, and move on. You have demonstrated time and again that you could be relied upon to come back with "mission completed", and not an excuse.

3. I, with all other members of the Office of Strategic Services, am proud of you men of 100th, proud to have been associated with you, and I regret that I do not know each of you personally. I wish that I could meet and congratulate each one of you, but failing that, I can only resort to this method of saying, "Well done; God Bless and Goodspeed to your new assignment, and may you bring the same share of success to your new organization that you have made possible for your last."

Lieutenant Colonel Jacques M. de Sibour, O1 420 844, Air Corps, Army of the United States, is awarded the Legion of Merit for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service as Commanding Officer of the Manning Area for the Office of Strategic Services during the period 1 June 1944 to 13 November 1944. Lieutenant Colonel de Sibour organized and established several agents' nets in occupied China. In addition, he planned the training programs and operating schedules of these agents. Under difficult conditions, with outstanding professional skill, unflinching zeal and great diplomatic resourcefulness, he supervised and coordinated the clandestine operations in the China Theater. He also supervised and coordinated American, Chinese and French intelligence nets in the French Indo-China and South China areas. Due to this coordination, he was able to supply exceedingly valuable information to the 14th Air Force, the State Department and other United States agencies. Lt. Colonel de Sibour, in addition to organizing these nets, made two separate trips into French Indo-China behind Japanese lines to contact civilian and military authorities and brought back six (6) cases of documents and letters from the governor of French Indo-China to be delivered to French and American authorities. On one occasion he was very nearly captured by the Japanese.

Last week I attended a ceremony at the Navy Department at which Lieutenant Carroll of Special Projects was decorated with the Bronze Star. A copy of the citation is attached.

Lieutenant Carroll joined OSS in December, 1943, as a member of the MU Branch. He was sent to STC, and it was during his service there that he conducted a number of operations for OSS with the three PT boats which the Navy had assigned to us.

He also went with the British on a larger number of similar clandestine operations.

I am sending a copy of the citation to the Citations Officer, with the request that his name be placed on the board in the Projection Room.

The President of the United States takes pleasure in presenting the MONIE STAR MEDAL to

LIEUTENANT FRANK MICHAEL CARROLL
UNITED STATES NAVAL RESERVE

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

"For meritorious service in connection with military operations against enemy Germany forces in the European Theater from May 1 to July 15, 1944. Rendering gallant service prior to and following the initial assault on the Continent of Europe in June, Lieutenant (then Lieutenant, Junior Grade) Carroll aided materially in the direction and execution of secret naval operations against enemy controlled positions on the coast of France, carrying out his hazardous missions under constant threat of German submarine and air attack and frequently encountering hostile naval strength. Discreet and resourceful, he successfully evacuated allied airmen shot down in enemy territory, transported special equipment and materials to the French Resistance Group operating with the Allied commands, effected the infiltration and evacuation of individuals engaged in secret intelligence and operational activities, and delivered invaluable intelligence documents safe to Allied authorities. By his comprehensive knowledge, daring initiative and indomitable determination in the face of ruthless opposition, Lieutenant Carroll contributed essentially to the success of our military operations in this area and his undaunted courage and constant devotion to duty in the fulfillment of his urgent missions was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

For the President,

Secretary of the Navy

In the name of the President of the United States, I have the honor to advise you that the President has approved the following:

NOTES

It is not until the initial assaults on the continent of Europe on the evening of June, 1940, that the German (junior) staffs actually entered on the execution of a number of coordinated tactical operations of a highly mechanized nature. These operations were directed on a number of fronts against enemy entrenched positions on the coast of France. Air patrols, sea patrols and convoys. In several instances many heavy losses were encountered. It is noted with interest and broadly under fire of the enemy and in executing war plans and landing operations. These operations included in the execution of a varied amount of special operations in the form of transport of special equipment and materials to the beach. Operations drawn into one operation with the allied command and coordination and exploitation of individuals engaged in secret intelligence and operations activities and the employment of highly valuable intelligence resources in all its activities. The courts, judgment and achievement of the German (junior staffs) carried throughout the period were in keeping with the traditions of the United States Navy's history.

OFFICE OF STRATEGIC SERVICES

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

TO: Maj. Gen. William C. Clegg

FROM: Col. H. N. Dix NHE

SUBJECT: Decorations.

Under your memorandum for all Heads Office, dated April 1945, on the above subject regarding Washington personnel, may I not take the liberty of urging appropriate decorations for Col. G. Edward Buxton, Mr. Charles J. Cheston, Mr. William J. Shepardson, Dr. Stanley P. Lovell and Lt. Col. Edward M. Blanton.

The writer has worked closely and in detail with the above persons on many problems which have involved most difficult policy-making questions and procedures, and which could easily discredit this organization to a very sizeable degree. I am glad to say the results of their decisions have been most gratifying, satisfactory and outstanding and have brought back to this organization and to them many exceptional words of commendation. The outstanding abilities and excellent judgements of the above gentlemen are seldom found and have been outstanding in accomplishing many of the fine and advantageous results for the war effort and for this organization.

As you well know, the value of each of these gentlemen has been more than just outstanding. Their organizational abilities and judgements have gained so much and have assisted very materially

In shortening the prosecution of this war. The fact that their judgments have saved many lives and that they have obtained information obtained in the field is a credit to them.

Especially, if I may state some of the things that I want to urge an excellent decoration for Mr. Morris Berg, of the Technical Section of SI, for some of the outstanding results which he has accomplished abroad, at a great risk to himself and his life. These results have produced excellent dividends for the war effort and for this organization and for himself. Some respect and credit and compliments from various sources from the members of his office.

If it is in order, I plan on recommending a proposal for the basis of a decoration for Mr. Morris Berg, of the Technical Section of SI, for some of the outstanding results which he has accomplished abroad, at a great risk to himself and his life. These results have produced excellent dividends for the war effort and for this organization and for himself.

As one example of Mr. Berg's operation, I would like to say that Mr. Berg's gained admission to a lecture given last February of this year by the chief German scientists to a group of twenty, including Mr. Berg. This attendance was made at a great personal risk, for, had these twenty people - most of them Germans, and some of them supporting the rabid Nazi - known of Mr. Berg's religion and his nationality, this office undoubtedly would have been deprived of one most excellent operator and producer.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT:

Miss Virginia Hall, an American civilian working for this Agency in the European Theater of Operations, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against the enemy.

We understand that Miss Hall is the first civilian woman in this war to receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Despite the fact that she was well known to the Gestapo, Miss Hall voluntarily returned to France in March 1944 to assist in sabotage operations against the Germans. Through her courage and physical endurance, even though she had previously lost a leg in an accident, Miss Hall, with two American officers, succeeded in organizing, arming and training three FFI Battalions which took part in many engagements with the enemy and a number of acts of sabotage, resulting in the demolition of many bridges, the destruction of a number of supply trains, and the disruption of enemy communications. As a result of the demolition of one bridge, a German convoy was ambushed and during a bitter struggle 150 Germans were killed and 500 were captured. In addition Miss Hall provided radio communication between London Headquarters and the Resistance Forces in the Haute Loire Department, transmitting and receiving operational and intelligence information. This was the most dangerous type of work as the enemy, whenever two or more direction finders could be tuned in on a transmitter, were able to locate the transmittal point to within a couple of hundred yards. It was frequently necessary for Miss Hall to change her headquarters in order to avoid detection.

Inasmuch as an award of this kind has not been previously made during the present war, you may wish to make the presentation personally. Miss Hall is presently in the European Theater of Operations.

1. It is recommended that the Legion of Honor, in appropriate degree, be awarded to Colonel Christopher Woodhouse, British Army, Force 133, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services.

2. It is believed that the services of Colonel Woodhouse, as outlined in the attached recommendation by Major G. K. Hines, have been so outstanding that recognition in high degree in the form of an award of a United States decoration is not only appropriate but desirable.

3. The influence of Colonel Woodhouse's activity on the successful settlement of the Greek problem was one of almost distinction when it is realized that the situation which arose following the original liberation of Greece from Nazi domination might well have resulted a series of major impact to Allied arms throughout the entire area, the achievement of Colonel Woodhouse in solidifying the elements involved into a cooperative national temper and attitude toward the war is a splendid example of idealistic devotion to duty and superior statesmanship.

TO: Major General William J. Donovan,
Director, O. S. S.
SUBJECT: Recommendation for Decoration for Col. Christopher
Montague Woodhouse, (British Army, Force 133)

1. The following information is submitted regarding the above captioned British officer with the respectful request that consideration be given, by proper authority, for his citation and decoration by the government of the United States, for the outstanding services he rendered to the Allied cause in Greece during the period of our joint mission there while the country was under enemy occupation.

2. Upon the departure of Brigadier Myers from Greece in 1943, Col. Woodhouse assumed command of the British Force 133, known then in Free Mountain Greece as the British Military Mission. As Commanding Officer of this force he amalgamated and utilized the disaffected andarte factions under the "Natband Agreement", negotiated and accepted the surrender of the Italian Pinerolla Division, and planned and participated in acts of sabotage against the enemy, for which he was decorated by his own government.

When, in the fall of 1943, it was agreed that American military personnel would be sent into Greece, the name of the Mission was changed from "British Military Mission" to "Allied Military Mission" and Col. Woodhouse remained in command of the new joint force. Although, as constituted, the allied mission was preponderantly British in number, there being now more than ten times as many British officers and men as American, the mission under Col. Woodhouse became allied in fact as well as in name and it remained such until the enemy left Greece and the last man of our special operations group was evacuated in December, 1944.

From the time of my entry, as senior American officer in Greece, December 7, 1943, Col. Woodhouse never failed to discuss with me, frankly and openly, all matters of local policy and he acted always in accordance with our joint decisions.

When civil war again flared, late in 1943, to threaten the success of our plans against the Germans, Col. Woodhouse recognized the danger to the Allied cause and strove unceasingly to find a formula by which the dissensions between ELAS, EDES and EKKKA could be adjudicated. In a series of conferences with the leaders of the several rebel factions in villages along the Arakthos River in January and February, 1944, he evidenced great skill, tact, and patience in keeping the deliberations from breaking down, presented our Mission as a united, allied front, worked intelligently to compose the internecine differences and succeeded, by the Plaka Agreement, signed by all parties and attested by us, in bringing about the end of the civil war.

It was through the tireless energy of this gallant officer, more than any other factor, that the lives of many Greek patriots were saved and their services made available for useful operations against the enemy. By his dominance as a leader, and largely through the example of his initiative, fearlessness and personal courage, our headquarters group moved through Thessaly, Epirus, and Macedonia, behind and through the German lines, to organize the Greek undertakes for their part in the final assault against the enemy. It was by his absolutely fair and equitable treatment of all the personnel under his command that we were able to function, within the limits of mainland Greece, truly as an Allied Military Mission.

3. The permanent address of this officer is: Col. Christian at M. Woodhouse, Reform Club, Pall Mall, 1, London, England.

4. This letter is addressed to the Director, O. S. S., in the belief that it is a matter which requires the attention of an officer in the top echelon.

My dear Mr. Minister:

I have your letter of 21 April. I have looked carefully into your generous suggestion. Unfortunately I find that Army Regulations make it impossible for American Officers to be authorized to wear campaign ribbons as distinct from foreign decorations, other than those of the United States. (The only exception to this is in the case of the Philippines where the War Department granted special permission.)

I deeply appreciate the thought which prompted your offer.

SUBJECT: Recommendation for award of the Legion of Merit, degree of Legionnaire, to Captain Charles Dimary, French Army.

TO : The Adjutant General
War Department
Washington 25, D. C.

1. Under the provisions of AR 600-45, it is recommended that the Legion of Merit, degree of Legionnaire be awarded Captain Charles Dimary, French Army.

2. Captain Dimary was one of those Frenchmen who planned with representatives of the OSS to effect the American landings in North Africa known as the Torch Operation of 8 November 1942. This service was above and beyond the usual call of duty and was performed at great personal risk.

3. Captain Dimary, on 8 November 1942, at 1900, advised the pro-Allied General Bethouart, in command of the Moroccan Division, of the date and hour at which the Allied landings were to take place. It had been determined that General Bethouart would issue orders directing the various French divisions in Morocco to offer no resistance to the Allied landings. Captain Dimary assisted General Bethouart, as a member of his staff, in neutralizing pro-Vichy plans for resistance to the American forces by planning for and participating in the arrest of high pro-Vichy officials who were in a position to override any orders given by General Bethouart. The high officials who were to be given the alternative of assisting in General Bethouart's plan or be arrested were General Nogues, Resident General at Rabat, General Lascroux, Commanding General of French troops in Morocco, and General Lahouille, Commanding General of the French Airforce in Morocco.

4. The arrests of Generals Lascroux and Lahouille were made without mishap. However, General Nogues, on being given the opportunity of assisting in the Torch Operation, stated that he would not cooperate with the pro-Allied plan but would order his troops to resist the Allied landings. General Bethouart and Captain Dimary then gave orders to surround the Residency in which General Nogues was established and notified him that he was under house arrest. By participating in the arrest of General Nogues, Captain Dimary exposed himself to the charge of high treason for which the penalty was death.

5. Though the execution of the Torch plans in Morocco were not a complete success in view of the fact that General Nogues remained in possession of a secret telephone code which he was able, in part, to contradict General Bethouart's orders as stated in paragraph 3 above, the arrest of General Nogues, in which Captain Dimary participated, created great confusion among the French High Command. This confusion impaired the ability of the French Forces to resist the Allied landings and contributed to the saving of many American lives.

6. It should be noted that as a result of General Nogues' secret telephone call, pro-Vichy troops placed both Captain Dimary and General Bethouart under arrest for high treason. Following imprisonment in the Civil Prison at Meknes, they were placed on trial on 10 November 1942. However, as a result of the Armistice declared on 11 November, the proceedings were adjourned and the prisoners were released.

7. Captain Dimary holds the Cross of Lorraine, General De Gaulle's highest award for valor, and the Croix de Guerre with palm for his part in the liberation of French North Africa. General Bethouart has received from the United States the Legion of Merit in the rank of Commander.

8. These facts are personally known to me and are stated in General Bethouart's report, a copy of which is in the files of the Office of Strategic Services.

9. Captain Dimary's service since these acts has been honorable.

10. The address of Captain Dimary is care of General Mast, the French Ministry of War, 16 Rue St. Dominique, Paris VIIIe, France.

30 June 1945

Mr. Ivar Bryce
British Security Co-Ordination
1106 Connecticut Avenue, N. W.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Ivar:

Since General Donovan is away at this time, I have for consideration the plan contained in your 14 June 1945 memorandum to recommend British decorations for OSS officers in connection with Italian resistance. I am happy to grant approval for the submission of citations for the officers you list. In so doing I should like to express the appreciation of OSS for this action. I should also like to express our gratitude for the recommendations previously made by S.O.M. for those men who performed services in France and in the Balkans.

May I state, however, that in listing Colonel Glavin and Colonel Livermore in the alternative a misapprehension apparently exists concerning their respective functions. Colonel Glavin's position has been that of Strategic Services Officer for the Mediterranean Theater, and in that capacity he is commanding officer of all OSS operations in that theater. Colonel Livermore is Commanding Officer of our Operational Groups in all theaters, but has made his headquarters in the Mediterranean Theater because of the focal importance that theater has had with reference to use of these particular units. He has also in recent months occasionally helped Colonel Glavin by acting as his deputy during periods of Colonel Glavin's absence. I realize that the listing in the alternative may have been an error. If this is the case I would not, of course, venture to advise concerning the propriety of a recommendation for Colonel Livermore. However, I do think that in view of the position which he has occupied in our Mediterranean organization, it would be fitting if he could receive consideration.

May I again express my gratitude to S.O.M. and you.

Sincerely yours,

Charles S. Houston

It is very probable that upon Mr. Hyde's return to this country, he will recommend that various other members of his staff be given suitable recognition for their work. This desk believes that such requests should come directly from Mr. Hyde who is familiar with the details of what his desk men and agents have done, rather than from any of us here in Washington who have only an over-all picture of what this group, as a whole, has contributed to the success of the military operations.

French Desk in Algiers and he set up and operated the Battle Order Section at that post which produced such outstanding results. The successful organization and operation of that Section was entirely due to Mr. Kennedy's ingenuity and perseverance against insurmountable handicaps.

Since February of 1943, the way in which he has handled his duties, and his outstanding achievements are well known to those members of this Organization connected with this phase of the War effort. There is no doubt but that a major portion of the success of the Allied Landings made in Southern France in August, 1944, was directly attributable to the accomplishments of Mr. Hyde and his French Desk.

Mr. E. Barnes worked with Mr. Hyde from the early days of the French Desk in Algiers and he set up and operated the Battle Order Section at that post which produced such outstanding results. The successful organization and operation of that Section was entirely due to Mr. Kennedy's ingenuity and perseverance against insurmountable handicaps.

Having today rendered my resignation from O.S.S. as Chief, S.I., I desire before leaving to recommend that two civilian members of our overseas French, S.I., staff be awarded such citation or commendation as may be in order for civilians having performed tasks of outstanding merit.

REMY B. HYDE has been head of the French Desk based in Algiers since February of 1943. The way in which he has handled his duties, and his outstanding achievements are well known to those members of this Organization connected with this phase of the War effort. There is no doubt but that a major portion of the success of the Allied Landings made in Southern France in August, 1944, was directly attributable to the accomplishments of Mr. Hyde and his French Desk.

I shall be very glad to support this recommendation although I doubt that this support is necessary, as I am sure that both General Wilson and General Davers fully agree. From personal observation and information obtained on my recent visit to Greece, I am of opinion that continued withholding of certificates of service for Greek agents and employees will do more harm than good. I believe that danger of serious political repercussions is past and Ambassador McVeigh has expressed agreement. If you agree Houston will draft simple printed form on our letter head for my signature, stating only dates of service and general expression of appreciation, similar to form used in Italy.

TO : Mr. Cheston

FROM : Secretariat

SUBJECT: Issuance of Certificates to Greek Agents

The question of the issuance of certificates of service to Greek agents and employees has been handled by Colonel Aldrich personally when he was here. However, I think I know fairly well what happened.

Mr. Penrose of St. Cairo, believed that it was desirable that OSS issue such a certificate, either on its own or jointly with the British. He stated in cable #4269 that the British were all in favor of doing it.

Colonel Aldrich was afraid of the complications, however, since the Greek troubles were at their height at that time and the issuance of such certificates to our agents, most of whom I believe were those who had also worked with and were sympathetic toward the British, might be regarded as placing the United States on the British side in the quarrel. Accordingly, the attached cable #45671 was dispatched by Colonel Aldrich and General Donovan from Washington to Cairo, stating that it was not advisable that certificates be issued at that time.

Since the conclusion was against the issuance of such certificates, Colonel Aldrich probably did not feel it necessary that there be any clearance with State, War Department or other agency, and I am certain that the matter was not raised with them. However, since Colonel Aldrich now believes it desirable to issue certificates, and expresses his view that there will not be political repercussions, the matter should be reconsidered.

You might wish to consider whether it might be more expeditious to have Colonel Aldrich clear the issuance of the certificate with Ambassador MacVeagh (who he says is in agreement) and with USAFIME rather than our attempting to clear with State and War Department here. If you agree, a suggested cable is attached. If you do not, we shall be glad to prepare a letter to the State and War Departments on the matter.

#45671. Aldrich, 154 and 100 to Penrose and Wilson. In reference to your #42691.

On the whole Washington OSS approves granting agents a certificate, which as a rule is a certification of the fact that the agent in question has served the Allied cause during his country's liberation with the highest possible devotion and total self-sacrifice and consequently has contributed to the common victory. The certificates which have been granted in ETOUSA carry a seal, which is not the United States Great Seal, but a seal designed particularly for this agency.

It is the unanimous opinion of all here that in the matter of Greece, no individual awards be made at the moment to agents, because of political considerations, but in its place, OSS should only certify to the Greek government that certain agents have served the Allied cause in our service. The same conditions also dictate against granting agents a joint British-American certificate.

The above decision is subject to future consideration when conditions may permit a change.

1. We learn from ISLD that British Services give Americans preference in a joint meeting to our employing identical certificates of service for Greeks as outlined to you by Penrose. Although this question has not yet been presented to the Commander in chief, his concurrence seems probable in light of the sympathetic action by services concerned.

Could you ascertain for me whether:

1. An OSS request has been forwarded to the Italian Ministry of War recommending eight of the agents who worked for me in Rome for Italian Army decorations. The agents are: Giglio, Malfatti, De Giovanni, Primo, Marinacci, Borin, Crespi, Secco-Suardo. The first was to get a posthumous Gold Medal, the next four silver medals, and the last three bronze medals. I had already arranged with the Cabinet of the Minister of War that they would be granted on receipt of a letter from OSS.
2. OSS affidavits and letters (based on a list requested and approved by the investigating committee) have actually been delivered to the underground members who rendered service to OSS throughout the clandestine period in Rome.
3. Agent Gabriele Crespi has been compensated for the loss of his car on an OSS operation.

I was categorically promised that all of these things would be taken care of in my absence.

SUBJECT: Recommendation for Award of Legion of Merit, in Appropriate Degree

TO: The Adjutant General

1. Under the provisions of AR 600-45, it is recommended that the Legion of Merit, in appropriate degree, be awarded to Colonel C. H. Ellis, British Army. This recommendation is based upon my personal knowledge of the facts outlined below.

2. During the period 1 January 1943 until the early part of 1943, Colonel Ellis, as liaison officer between the British Security Coordination in New York City and various intelligence services of the United States Government assisted in the firm establishment and growth of the Secret Intelligence Branch of the Office of the Coordinator of Information (COI), predecessor of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS). He placed unreservedly at our disposal his extensive experience with and intimate knowledge of the British Intelligence Service (SIS), of which he had been an officer for many years. He played a vital part in laying the foundation for an American counterpart of that organization. Colonel Ellis' assistance during the above period of experimentation and growth was invaluable particularly in the absence of any American precedent in the initiation and operation of a clandestine intelligence organization.

3. Throughout the above period Colonel Ellis was a daily visitor to the COI (OSS) offices, where his helpfulness and advice were generously made available to the Secret Intelligence Branch. In addition he also furnished COI (OSS) many items of secret intelligence emanating from British sources. Such intelligence when turned over to the American Armed Forces and the various interested American Governmental Departments and Agencies proved to be of considerable value in the advancement of military plans and operations.

MEMORANDUM FOR GENERAL DONOVAN

SUBJECT: Decorations for British Personnel

1. Miss McQuire called me this afternoon to ascertain the status of decorations for the following named British personnel: Mr. Stevenson, Colonel Ellis, Sir Charles Hambro, Colonel Franck, General Menzies, General Gubbins and Lieutenant Colonel Rowlandson.

2. From our records the following information has been ascertained: We have received from the field a photostatic copy of a report of First Lieutenant Kenneth Karlson, Secretary, Awards and Decorations Board, ETO, to Colonel T. D. Palmer, Personnel Officer, ETO, dated 25 January 1945, which listed Lt. Colonel Rowlandson and Major General Gubbins as having been recommended for the Legion of Merit. The report indicated that the recommendations had been approved "by either OSS Awards and Decorations Board or by a Board at Corps or Army level." Sir Charles Hambro was listed as having been recommended for the Medal for Merit and the report indicated that his recommendation had also been approved by OSS or a Board at Corps or Army level.

3. Our records also indicate that an earlier recommendation had been prepared in Washington by Captain Dern for ~~Mr. Charles Hambro~~ and was submitted to the Secretariat for your signature. I have been advised that this recommendation was returned from the Joint Chiefs of Staff to be held pending the cessation of hostilities with Germany, but it has never been received by this office and therefore presume they are being held in the Secretariat or in Mrs. O'Donnell's office.

4. The recommendation for Colonel Ellis for the award of the Legion of Merit was prepared in consultation with Colonel Bruce and submitted to Lieutenant Putzell for your signature on 18 April. The recommendations for ~~Colonel Franck~~ and for General Menzies were prepared by Captain Dern and submitted to the Secretariat for your signature according to the records we have in this office.

SUBJECT : Menzies, Sir Stewart Graham, Major General, K.C.M.G., C.B., C.S.I., W.D. Recommendation for the award of the Legion of Merit, in appropriate degree, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services.

1. It is recommended that Major General Sir Stewart Graham Menzies, K.C.M.G., C.B., C.S.I., W.D., Chief of the British Secret Intelligence Service, be awarded the Legion of Merit in appropriate degree.

2. Major General Sir Stewart Graham Menzies made available to this Government the experience of the British in the field of secret intelligence. With his assistance and advice the United States was able to create quickly and effectively an organization capable of obtaining secret intelligence in areas of strategic importance throughout the world. General Menzies continually fostered close cooperation between the British SIS and its American counterpart, the Secret Intelligence Branch of OSS, performing an outstanding service not only to the Government of this country but to the common cause of Great Britain and the United States in the war against the enemy.

3. Specific examples of the service which General Menzies has rendered to this country include:

- a. The training of American personnel in schools maintained by SIS in the United Kingdom
- b. Authorizing the arrangements by which British secret intelligence, theretofore unavailable to this country, was furnished to OSS for dissemination to the interested agencies of this Government

3. The British Government, in order to maintain its position in the world, has been forced to engage in a program of espionage and intelligence activities. This program, as a result of which, the British Government has been able to maintain its position in the world, has been a program of espionage and intelligence activities.

4. It is the opinion of the British Government that it would be extremely difficult for this agency to have this same program of intelligence activities in order to maintain its position in the world, as the United States Government.

5. From the years 1941-44, a period covered by the foregoing, Major General Menzies, who has given his entire service to this Government has been working, and worked diligently and effectively to promote close cooperation between the two nations and their respective agencies. In every possible way he has furthered the development of an organization which could undertake on behalf of the American Government and its Allied Forces the same type of operations so effectively conducted for the British Government by SIO.

for award of Medal for Merit

1. It is recommended that Sir Charles Hambro, former Head of the Special Operations Executive, the British Agency charged with the conduct and control of Sabotage and Guerrilla Warfare, be awarded the Medal for Merit.

2. Through the efforts of Sir Charles Hambro, the experience of the British Government in the field of special operations was made available to this country. With his assistance it was possible, in a relatively short space of time, to create an American organization capable of carrying out such operations and yet, by utilizing British experience, to avoid a period of long delays and costly experimentation. The collaboration with Sir Charles Hambro fostered between OSS and SOE was particularly fruitful in the United Kingdom where it led to the establishment under SHAEP of a joint SO/SOE headquarters for the support of resistance groups in Western Europe. His consistent attitude of cooperation, his wise counsel, and his willingness on any occasion to extend the facilities of SOE to its American counterpart contributed not only to the development of an equal partnership between the British and American organizations in the European Theatre, but to the advancement of the common cause wherever special operations can be employed against the enemy.

3. Specific examples of the service which Sir Charles Hambro rendered to this country include:

- a. The training of American personnel in schools maintained by SOE in the United Kingdom.

- h. The creating of British facilities for clandestine communications which were planned without reservation at the disposal of American agents in the field.
- i. The provision, until American aircraft were made available for the purpose in January, 1944, of British facilities for transportation both by sea and air of agents who were to be infiltrated into occupied territory.
- j. The making available of British operational intelligence, both for target planning and for the purpose of helping agents.
- k. The provision of complete facilities for the training of Headquarters staff and Administrative personnel.

4. Without the cooperation of Sir Charles Hambro as outlined above, it would have been extremely difficult for this agency to have undertaken special operations in Western Europe and Scandinavia on behalf of the United States Government.

5. Throughout the years 1940-44, the period covered by the foregoing, Sir Charles Hambro, whose entire service to this government has been honorable, has worked tirelessly and effectively to promote close cooperation between the two nations and their respective agencies. This will confirm telephone conversation held on 11 September in which it was agreed that you should proceed with preparation of recommendations for awards to the remaining individuals in British SOE and SIS who have been of service in getting OSS underway. This should be done in spite of the existence of the agreement against consideration of awards until cessation of hostilities.

It is contemplated that the recommendations will be submitted to the Joint Chiefs of Staff for final submission by them at the appropriate time. The foregoing decision was made because otherwise it might not be possible to prepare adequately documented statements at the end of the war, since those individuals who were most familiar with the facts might not be readily available.

In spite of severe handicaps resulting from inadequate equipment and transportation, insufficient number of trained personnel, security restrictions and a rapidly changing tactical situation, you nevertheless have maintained a steadily increasing production and distribution of HQ material. Your field operations, too, have been highly successful in subverting the morale of the enemy within your theater.

2. Your splendid teamwork and high morale in the face of the above hardships are worthy of the highest praise. There is no doubt in my mind that during the 6 months your Branch has been in operation, you have substantially contributed to the success of the war effort in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

3. I have requested Colonel Glavin to make this commendation a part of the official record of all members of the HQ Branch, 2677th Regiment, 553 (Prov). These include the following service personnel and civilians:

SUBJECT: Letter of Commendation for MO Branch

TO : Director, Office of Strategic Services, Washington, D.C.

1. I am taking the opportunity at this time to recommend for appropriate recognition the outstanding work of the Mediterranean MO Branch, headed by Mr. Eugene Warner. Because MO works as a team, the success of its undertakings depending upon the skilled contribution of each member, Mr. Warner is unwilling to name any individual above any other for special citation; he requests instead a letter of commendation from the Director for the entire branch.

2. In spite of severe handicaps, Mr. Warner's unit has gone forward successfully toward the accomplishment of their primary aim - subversion of the morale of the German military forces in Italy, France, and the Balkans, as well as of civilian Germany and collaborationist elements in northern Italy and southern France.

3. The difficulties encountered by the MO section in meeting their program have been intensified by the highly specialized nature of their work. Especially acute have been the problems of inadequate equipment and transportation, insufficient trained personnel, the necessity of keeping abreast of a rapidly changing tactical situation, and the restrictions imposed by security demands. As a result, special equipment arrived months too late; and great quantities of printed material became obsolete overnight. MO's record of accomplishment in spite of these and many other handicaps is enviable.

4. In the five months MO has been in operation, it has disseminated approximately 15,000,000 items of black propaganda inside enemy-held territory. In response to a large order placed by Tito, more than 3,000,000 items have already gone inside Yugoslavia and other shipments are moving out of Italy constantly. A recent highly successful MO operation was the infiltration of prisoners of war carrying subversive propaganda through the 5th Army front.

5. I am glad to furnish you with these facts indicative of the loyal and tireless work of the MO branch and to forward Mr. Warner's request for a letter from you which will convey to each member your appreciation, and that of the organization, of his individual work. SUBJECT: Letter of Commendation for this year

TO : Director, Office of Strategic Services, Washington, D.C.

1. Mr. Eugene Warner, Chief of the Intelligence Section of MO, has called to my attention the section by six German prisoners of war. These men have carried out a series of infiltrations through the Army lines in many carrying subversive propaganda to the enemy, intelligence concerning battle and enemy positions, and defense positions. These efforts have been successful, and requests have been received for more information. The concrete evidence that numbers of German prisoners of war are the direct result of reading the articles in this section.

2. It is Mr. Warner's wish that these prisoners of war, given, after hostilities have ceased, some tangible recognition for the extremely hazardous missions they have valiantly and successfully undertaken for this organization. MEMORANDUM FOR MR. CROFTON

1. Lieutenant Thurn called me and requested that I write a memorandum to you outlining the decorations which can be awarded to civilians of a foreign country.
2. The answers to the questions Lieutenant Thurn proposed must be divided into two distinct categories. The first category includes only civilians serving with the armed forces. Such civilians may be awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, the Distinguished Service Medal, the Silver Star, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Air Medal.
3. The War Department has interpreted OSS civilian personnel serving in a theater of operations as coming within the requirement that such persons be on duty with the Army in order to justify the award of a War Department decoration. In no case will either the War or Navy Departments interpret service in the United States with OSS as coming within such requirements. OSS in the continental United States is considered a civilian agency as are the War and Navy Departments.
4. The other category, that of civilians not serving with the Army, includes only one possible award which is the Medal for Merit and which can be awarded under the regulations to civilians of nations prosecuting the war under the joint declaration of the United Nations and other friendly foreign nations. This award was established as a civilian counterpart of the Legion of Merit which can be awarded only to military and naval personnel of the United States or personnel of the armed forces of co-belligerent foreign governments.
5. We have been advised informally however that it would be practically impossible for any member of OSS to be awarded the Medal for Merit because the Medal for Merit Board, composed of the Secretaries of State, War and Navy, has awarded only two such decorations upon the thousands of recommendations it has received. They have refused to approve at least one recommendation of the board, made by the Theater Commander for the posthumous award of decorations for an OSS civilian and one made personally by the Theater Commander for another OSS civilian in the war zone. The only two awards that have been awarded the medal for merit to date are for the invention and development of the grandiose C-13 and the same year, and the and developed radar whose name I do not know.

6. The rule adopted by the board for the award of medals is that the service performed must be in direct aid of the national effort in the prosecution of the war and must be with the agency or in one theater where the medal is awarded. The regulations set up by the board.

7. Lieutenant Thron is a civilian who was recommended primarily in an award which was made for a civilian who was serving with the Army or the Navy. The only award which, under the regulations, could be recommended for a civilian was the medal. I am practically certain that I do not recall, at the time, that the

I have been asked how to handle the 'the Const' concerning CSK policy for decorations and citations or commendations.

I understand we have an up-to-date policy which should handle properly those exceptions, cases where decorations are warranted.

It occurs to me, however, that we might like to consider some kind of a decoration equivalent to a divisional citation. CSK is in size equivalent to an American division. You might like to consider as a formal citation is used in your name to those who have performed meritorious service in a position of responsibility. The citation would consist of a formal inscription of the task performed. It might serve as a sort of diploma which some people might like to hang on their walls.

I would think it could be given properly to Branch and Division Heads and perhaps in some instances to Section Heads. The argument against doing anything of this sort would be that unless it was universal, given to all officials, those omitted would have a sense of having been unappreciated or discriminated against. Nevertheless, I would think the net result would be good if it were done by a Board which exercised proper judgment.

I have received today from the War Department appropriately engraved Bronze Star Medals with citations bearing the signature of the President for seven OSS civilians in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

The Decorations and Awards Branch delivered the awards to this office rather than send them to the field in order that your wishes as to presentation might be carried out.

It has occurred to me that if you plan to visit the Mediterranean Theater you may want to take them with you and present them personally to the individuals concerned.

701 ALL STRATEGIC SERVICES OFFICES

1. The Administrative Officer of the US State Department Board in Washington is charged with keeping a complete and accurate record of records in Washington concerning awards and decorations made to US personnel in all theaters of operations.

2. In order that our information may be complete and accurate and the names of all US personnel who have received decorations included on the US Display Board, it is necessary in each case that we receive copies of the recommendations, a copy of the General Order awarding the decoration, a copy of the citation when not included in the General Order, a copy of the Foreign Order or citation in the case of foreign decorations and a copy of the authorization of the Theater Commander for the personnel concerned to receive the foreign award.

3. The number of inquiries by personnel who have returned from overseas concerning the status of individual recommendations has increased to a point where it is necessary that we have all information in each case at the earliest practicable time.

4. In many cases an officer or enlisted man serves in Washington between the time a recommendation is made and the decoration awarded. In such cases we require the decoration here and presentation is made by the Director. In order to provide a copy of the General Order awarding the decoration, a copy of the recommendation has not yet been received by the Theater Commander.

5. Reports from the Theater have shown a marked improvement both in accuracy and promptness, but it is necessary that further improvement be made.

6. It is important from an organizational and morale point of view that the accomplishment of OS, as reflected in the decorations awarded US personnel, be known.

7. When it is deemed advisable to report decorations by OS, include the date and number of the General Order making the award. Such reports must be followed by the information above called for, dispatched by air mail.

SUBJECT: Expansion of Citations & Decorations Office

1. At your direction I have fully discussed the expansion of the duties and staff of the Administrative Office of the OSS Citations Board with Lt. Colonel [redacted] and [redacted] following as necessary to put into effect what was agreed to be your desire.
2. Several considerations must be noted. First, the original conception of the Administrative Office of the Citations Board was that it would be a record office and would take up only part of the time of one officer. In the early days this was so, but now that operations have taken place in 1947 theater and many recommendations must be made by officers who have returned to assignment prior to the time they had an opportunity to recommend personnel under them in the field, the work of the Administrative Office has taken on a new complexion and increased to a point where it is now necessary to add personnel.
3. In the first place, the name "Administrative Office" of the OSS Citations Board is a misnomer. It would be more proper if the position were called "OSS Citations Officer". Much of the work of the office never goes to the Washington OSS Citations Board but must be prepared here and submitted through the field. Only those recommendations which originate in Washington and concern personnel who have performed their duties in Washington can, in most instances, be direct to the War Department.
4. The time is here when we must maintain close liaison with the citations boards in each theater and where possible see that such recommendations needing War Department approval are favorably considered when they reach the Decorations and Awards Branch of the War Department. The same relationship must be carried on with the Navy where it is sometimes necessary to add to or correct an OSS recommendation coming from the field to the Navy Department.
5. The question of the preparation of recommendations in proper form for officers who have returned from overseas prior to the time they have had an opportunity to submit a recommendation in the field is important and will require several capable persons. There is also the problem of preparing recommendations

It is a job which is a great deal of the men made at the time they were recruited.

8. It should be, I believe, the job of the Citations Officer of OSS to follow through from the time the recommendation is submitted until the presentation of the medal has been made. It should also be the function of the office to furnish monthly reports to the Director concerning the number of personnel recommended, number awarded and the general nature of the reports for which decorations were awarded.

9. To accomplish all this, we should have the following:

- OSS Citations Officer - Major
- Assistant OSS Citations Officer - Captain
- One secretary - Civilian
- One capable junior officer to handle liaison with the three main theaters in which we are operating with the probability that it will be necessary to enlarge this personnel to three in the near future. - 1st Lieutenants
- Two junior officers in the preparation section, preparing recommendations. - 1st Lieutenants.

TO: The Director

FROM: Major Frank Hall, Jr.

SUBJECT: Expansion of Duties of OSS Citation Officers

1. At your direction I have fully discussed the enlargement of the duties and staff of the Administrative Office of the OSS Citations Board with Lt. Colonel Smith and submit the following as necessary to put into effect what we believe to be your desire.

2. Several considerations must be noted. First, the original conception of the Administrative Office of the OSS Citations Board was that it would be a record office and would require only part of the time of one officer. In the early days this was so, but now that operations have taken place in every theater and many recommendations must be made by officers who have returned to Washington prior to the time they had an opportunity to recommend personnel under them in the field, the work of the Administrative Office has taken on a new complexion and increased to a point where it is now necessary to add personnel.

3. In the first place, the name "Administrative Officer" of the OSS Citations Board is a misnomer. It would be much more proper if the position were called "OSS Citations Officer". Much of the work of the office never goes to the Washington OSS Citations Board but must be prepared here and submitted through the field. Only those recommendations which originate in Washington and concern personnel who have performed their duties in Washington can, in most instances, go direct to the War Department.

4. The time is here when we must maintain close liaison with the citations boards in each theater and where possible see that such recommendations needing War Department approval are favorably considered when they reach the Decorations and Awards Branch of the War Department. The same relationship must be carried on with the Navy where it is sometimes necessary to add to or correct an OSS recommendation coming from the field to the Navy Department.

5. The question of the preparation of recommendations in proper form for officers who have returned from overseas prior to the time they have had an opportunity to submit a recommendation in the field is important and will require several capable persons. There is also the problem of preparing recommendations for personnel who have performed outstanding services but for whom no recommendation has ever been made. To accomplish this task will require several persons working closely with the Reports Office, Headquarters Detachment and Naval Command. There have been a number of people overlooked until now and to dig out the information from reports and contact people who have personal knowledge of the facts, requires a great deal of time and effort.

6. The maintenance of records, arranging for presentations, procuring of medals, arranging for photographs, insuring the recording of the proper information on the military record of the individual are also matters which take considerable time and which must be done accurately.

7. I know that these are matters in which you have been interested and I have been merely scratching the surface until I could ascertain the functions which would naturally fall to this Office. The job is an important and interesting one. It offers to those engaged upon it the additional pleasant compensation of seeing individuals and the Agency receive recognition from Theater Commanders for outstanding services performed. Personally, I have derived much satisfaction from seeing many of the officers and men we recruited in the old COI days decorated for performing outstanding acts and services. It is proof of the evaluation of the men made at the time they were recruited.

8. It should be, I believe, the job of the Citations Officer of OSS to follow through from the time the recommendation is submitted until the presentation of the medal has been made. It should also be the function of the office to furnish periodic reports to the Director concerning the number of personnel recommended, number awarded and the general nature of the service for which decorations were awarded.

9. To accomplish all this, we should have the following:

- OSS Citations Officer - Major
- Assistant OSS Citations Officer - Captain
- One secretary - Civilian

While this may sound like a large organization, I believe it is necessary in order to do the job properly. I fully appreciate your keen interest in seeing that those who merit recommendations for decoration are recommended and believe that with the personnel outlined above we will be able to perform a function which will be genuinely worth-while to the Agency and to the individuals concerned.

16. The problem of necessary space is acute. I have become a "freer" in the space occupied by the Board of Review which is not adequate. Our needs will require at least three medium size rooms.

The attached memorandum from Colonel Connely follows action taken by your office last April in a memorandum to the field. The memorandum to the field was accompanied by a letter of instructions concerning decorations.

Colonel Connely feels, and I think rightly, that the SS officers and Chiefs in the field probably have not appointed a staff officer as directed who shall have responsibility for making deserved recommendations.

Perhaps you will wish to follow this with a second memorandum to the field: first asking Colonel Goodfellow, Chairman of the Citations Board, for his comments.

TO: Colonel Buxton.

FROM: Colonel E. F. Connelly.

SUBJECT: Citations.

DATE 30 June 1944.

It is my understanding that OSS has a Citations Board. I do not believe that many people in OSS, including branch heads, have either an idea of the composition of this Board, or what the Board is prepared to do by way of recommendations.

Early last Spring, when I investigated the methods of requesting citations in the field, a memorandum was forwarded by your office which should have put the theater officers on notice as to what they could do when circumstances merited a citation. I have some doubt as to whether or not this is being taken very seriously in the field.

Perhaps I should put it in this way - I question that our theater officers, in their very busy day-to-day routine, give the matter of citations as much thought as they probably should. For example: when I returned from North Africa, I dropped Colonel Olavin a note, bringing to his attention the work of three SI officers who had been in the front lines in Italy for a period of four months, and who had been under constant shellfire until the line moved up around Cassino; after that time, they also worked nightly back of the enemy lines gathering information. To my mind, these officers, both from the standpoint of their courage and physical stamina, and the type of information that they were able to give the 5th Army, merited citations for either bravery or performance, or perhaps both.

I never ^{had} had an acknowledgment from Colonel Olavin; it may be that he thought it was none of my affair, though I doubt that, as I phrased my letter in such a way that he couldn't have taken offense.

I have a feeling that our branch chiefs, mission chiefs, theater officers, etc., are timid about either citing or commending a man. The Army, as a whole, is not timid, and it is a certainty that unless we ourselves initiate a large bulk of recommendations, nobody else will do it for us.

+ at the Director's request, I checked with the War Dept to see what the procedure might be. The memo to the officers that followed.

When I was in Cairo, it was stated in that theater that the Legion of Merit was, to an extent, discredited because it had been given so freely to non-combatant officers who had performed some task a little ahead of schedule, or perhaps a little better than was expected. This is tipping the scales to the opposite direction, but I am wondering if the suggestion is something to which we should turn our minds, lest the really meritorious cases be overlooked.

MEMORANDUM FOR STRATEGIC SERVICES OFFICERS,
CHIEFS OF MISSIONS AND LIAISON

Subject: Decorations

The attached charts and accompanying instructions are self-explanatory. You will note that most of the work in connection with the award of decorations should be accomplished in the field.

In most cases the Theater Commander is authorized to take final action, and you will see from Note 1 of the attached War Department Chart that he is authorized to do so when the individuals or units to whom the award is made have been transferred or separated from his command if the acts or services were performed while they were permanently assigned to his command.

Even in cases where the Theater Commander is not authorized to take final action, his recommendation should be secured before the recommendation is submitted to Washington for consideration by the Citations Board prior to its transmission to the War or Navy Departments.

All recommendations or citations which have previously been submitted to the Citations Board for consideration will be held with no further action contemplated. Revision after processing as indicated above should be initiated at the originating source. Past records should be examined to identify these cases and further action should be taken as if they were new cases.

It is suggested that each Strategic Services Officer designate a member of his staff who shall be responsible for the processing of recommendations.

Recommendations for awards should, of course, be carefully considered before being submitted to the Theater Commander or forwarded here for action. It is important that the request be for recognition appropriate for the act or service performed, since a recommendation for too high an award may result in loss of the entire award.

You will shortly receive a memorandum from the Chairman of the Citations Board asking that data on awards be compiled and forwarded to him. Will you please see that this is done?

Also attached are copies of the basic Army and Navy regulations and instructions for use in conjunction with the charts. Additional supplies of all material attached will be forwarded on request.

O. Edward Sutton,
Acting Director

LETTER OF INSTRUCTIONS

The accompanying charts have been prepared by the Office of Strategic Services for the benefit of all personnel who make, or have any connection with making an award of an Army or Navy decoration.

The purpose of the charts is to make readily available the most vital and important information relative to an award. The essential details are shown clearly and graphically along with pertinent items which must be considered in processing an award. Careful use of the charts should expedite the work in the field and eliminate the submission of faulty recommendations.

It should be borne in mind, however, that these charts are of OSS origin and as such must not be considered as official Army or Navy publications upon which to base action. Although the War and Navy Departments have approved the charts for their intended use, the basic service regulations and official instructions should be consulted for the full details necessary in making an award.

Particular care should be taken in following the instructions which appear at the bottom of the charts. If recommendations are carefully and thoughtfully prepared as directed, subsequent approval and authorization will be greatly enhanced.

It always should be remembered that the information contained in the column "Personnel Restrictions" is of utmost importance. Many mistakes will be avoided if this, and the "Eligible Persons" column are studied coincidentally and followed carefully.

Caution should be exercised in originating action for the award of any decoration. Many deeds of heroism, bravery, gallantry or services of highly meritorious calibre, though of outstanding character, do, nevertheless, often times come under the category of acts of heroism normally expected in the line of duty. To protect the great value of decorations it is desirable to avoid the submission of recommendations which will be subsequently disapproved. The resultant feeling of disappointment and frustration, in such cases, is far worse than if no recommendation had been submitted in the first place.

Care should be taken to properly match the act or service done with the appropriate decoration. Often times, for instance, and all other things being equal, a recommendation for the Medal of Honor is submitted which will not qualify but would qualify for a decoration of a lesser degree -- a Distinguished Service Cross or a Silver Star. Likewise, does this hold true for the other decorations all the way down the scale.

One of the most important things to remember is the desirability of having the award of a decoration completed in the field. The theater commanders and those commanders to whom authority has been delegated are in a much better position to weigh the merits of a recommendation and judge them accordingly, than the Washington personnel. In every instance, even though final action is required by law to take place in Washington, the recommendations should flow through channels for approval. The approval of the Theater Commander is a very potent and deciding factor in the ultimate determination by the various Boards in Washington. If this is remembered, the ratio between successful and unsuccessful recommendations should be out to an extremely narrow margin.

In all instances, the award of a decoration should be considered earnestly and seriously. There should be no abuse of the use of EDWARD W. GAMBLE, JR., 0504106, Colonel, Army of the United States, Headquarters Seventh Army, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in North Africa, Italy and Southern France from 6 June to 1 October 1944. During the planning phase of the invasion of Southern France, Colonel Gamble was responsible for directing the pre-invasion activities of a large number of intelligence agents in France. As a result of his outstanding initiative, sound judgment, and expert knowledge in the field of clandestine agent intelligence, there was produced, an extraordinary amount of highly accurate information concerning the composition, movements, strength and communications status of enemy units and defense installations in the target area. The amount, accuracy and immediate availability of this vital intelligence made a material contribution to the success of the Seventh Army in the assault landings. Upon landing in Southern France it became apparent to Colonel Gamble that his plan of operation as originally conceived would require radical revision to meet the fast moving conditions encountered by the Seventh Army. He thereupon reallocated his personnel and completely revised his tactical plan to meet this emergency. His correct evaluation of the situation at this crucial moment, and his establishment of a far reaching and closely coordinated agent intelligence net, made available to Seventh Army troops a steady flow of highly accurate information of great tactical value during the assault and subsequent pursuit of the enemy. Entered service from Charlottesville, Virginia.

FOR RELEASE SATURDAY A.M., APRIL 14, 1945

ARMY AWARDS

The War Department announced today the following awards of the Distinguished Service Cross to officers of the French Army:

TO: AUGUST LEON BONJOUR, Colonel, French Army.

FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy between August 18 and 24, 1944, in France. Colonel Bonjour displayed personal fearlessness and superb leadership while directing a vital phase of the fighting for Toulon. He gave proof of the same high military qualities in the fighting north of Grenoble and, later, in the drive on Beaune-la-Rolande. Throughout these hard-fought battles Colonel Bonjour's gallant conduct was an inspiring example to the units under his command.

TO: RAYMOND DELANGE, Colonel, French Army.

FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy during August, 1944, in France. Colonel Delange, Commanding Officer, 1st Brigade, 1st Division Motorisée D'Infanterie, repeatedly exposed himself to enemy fire during the hard struggle for Toulon in order to exercise close control of his troops. His fearlessness and his magnificent leadership were an inspiration to his men.

TO: GONZALEZ de LINARES, Colonel, French Army.

FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy from August 16 to September 15, 1944, in Southern France. Upon regrouping his unit after the landings in Southern France he set out on August 18, 1944, leading his unit by forced marches to positions north of Toulon. Two days later, moving through La Revest, he launched a daring attack on the enemy's rear. This brilliant maneuver was largely responsible for the fall of the stronghold. On August 26, he led his regiment on to Marseilles where he and his men compelled the commander of Fort De La Viste Bastion to surrender unconditionally. Colonel de Linares' magnificent leadership has gained him a high place among the Librators of Southern France.

TO: PIERRE GARBAY, Colonel, French Army.

FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy in August, 1944, in Southern France. Colonel Garbay, Commanding Officer, 2d Brigade, distinguished himself by his courageous conduct during the fighting for Toulon, France. Frequently exposing himself at points where the fighting was most intense, Colonel Garbay exhibited a complete disregard for danger and an imperturbable coolness under fire, while coordinating the operations of the units under his command. On August 24, he led his brigade to the capture of the strongly held Toulon Massif, north of Lagarde, France, taking a large number of prisoners.

TO: ROGER GARDET, Colonel (from Lieutenant Colonel), French Army.
 FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy from September 24 to 26, 1944, in France. A Battalion Commander in Italy and Tunisia and Commander of a regiment combat team in Italy, where he displayed rare qualities of leadership and courage, Colonel Gardet assumed command of a brigade during Allied operations in Southern France. During exceptionally severe fighting lasting through September 24-26, Colonel Gardet again demonstrated his tactical skill, determination and bravery under fire in extremely difficult circumstances. Leading his brigade against stubborn resistance, he succeeded in capturing two heavily defended villages and pushing rapidly beyond them, throwing the enemy into a state of complete confusion by this bold maneuver.

TO: LEON HENRI LASSUS, Colonel, French Army.
 FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy during 1944 in France. Colonel Lassus commanded the Divisional Artillery of the 2d Division D'Infanterie Marocaine throughout the operations that culminated in the liberation of the French Alps. At all times and in the most hazardous conditions, Colonel Lassus gave evidence of the highest qualities of personal courage and professional skill, maintaining perfect coordination between the various Artillery Groups engaged.

TO: GEORGES EMILE LEBLANC, Colonel, French Army.
 FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy during August, 1944, at Marseilles, France. Immediately on landing in Southern France he led his group by forced marches to positions north of Marseilles. He threw himself into combat at the head of his men on August 30 and, after two days of bitter fighting against a fanatical defense, succeeded in capturing the key position of Ondolive. In spite of heavy casualties and heedless of personal danger, Colonel Leblanc pressed on to the conquest of other strongly fortified positions. After inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy Colonel Leblanc obliged the enemy sector commander to capitulate, capturing 3,403 prisoners and a considerable quantity of enemy materiel.

TO: RAOUL ALBIN LOUIS SALAN, Colonel, French Army.
 FOR: Extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy during August, 1944, at Toulon, France. Colonel Salan commanded a force whose mission was to destroy the defenses of the Northeast Sector of Toulon. Colonel Salan, displaying the highest degree of courage and an inspired tactical sense, led his units to the attack and overcame stubborn resistance, inflicting more than 4,000 casualties on the enemy. Colonel Salan's magnificent combat qualities were especially evidenced in the fighting at Solliès-Pont, La Valette and Fort D'Artigues.
